This transformational program provides a unique opportunity to develop women as they advance to executive roles and senior positions of influence.

It is designed to help women to develop effective leadership strategies, confidence and to enhance their already proven capability. It brings a strong focus on creating successful alliances and partnerships to deal with the unique challenges that women face as they strengthen their impact and realise their potential.

What will be covered?

Group sessions will focus on the following areas of leadership development:

- Individual leadership challenges
- Authentic leadership
- Confidence and courage
- Influence and impact
- Personal brand
- Networking and sponsorship

Executive Coaching is 1 on 1 and paced throughout the program.

An opportunity, a challenge, a life changing experience. This is not a typical program. Over 6 months I work with women to challenge their thinking, change the game and take action.

It will help your company build competitive advantage by developing women at critical transition points so they stay in otherwise leaky pipelines.

It will provide the toolkit for your women to operate at their best in increasingly agile environments and environments where having a voice at the table is critical to success.

Outcomes for the individual

Leadership strategies that will help women navigate successfully into senior and executive roles.

Creation of successful alliances, enduring partnerships and a support network.

Increase the capability and confidence to help women overcome the unique challenges that they face in senior roles.

This experience is designed to help women to develop their own authentic leadership strategies, to take their confidence to a whole new level and develop their influence and impact in your organisation.
